

Tree Climber

Required:

2 scouts

Notes:

This is a campfire skit and works best outside where there are bushes and trees. It is an MC run-on to fill in between other skits.

Script:

MC: (to audience) You are lucky to be here this evening. You will witness a tree climbing demonstration by the world-record tree climber, Sven Svenson.. Sven, come on down!

Sven: Hiya, it's sure good to be here, yah!

MC: Well, Sven, are you ready to demonstrate your skills? Go ahead and find a tree out there and start climbing!

(Sven runs offstage left or right into the woods out of sight. MC gives him a while to start 'climbing')

MC: Sven! How high are you?

Sven: Oh, I'd say I'm about 25 feet up. It's pretty hard climbing.

MC: Well, we'll check in with Sven after this next [skit, song, announcement,...]

(do another skit. When it is finished, check in with Sven)

MC: Hey, Sven, how high are you now?

Sven: Oh, I'd say I'm up about 50 feet now! The air's getting a little thin.

MC: Wow! He's doing great! Keep it up, Sven! We'll check in with Sven after this next skit.

MC: Hey, Sven, how high are you now?

Sven: Oh, I'd say I'm up about 100 feet now! I can see for miles up here!

MC: Sven! The tallest trees in this forest are only 70 feet!

Sven: Aaaaaaaaahhhh! (make crashing noise in bushes)
